

Come on in!

Celebrating Christmas at the farm reminds me that the spaces we live in are really places of the heart. In this issue, we hear accounts of how swell it is to dwell on a boat or in a tent, or to settle in with eight amazing housemates. And we see what a difference even a few smart moves can make to the look of a room. Wherever home is for you, make it a source of strength and a thing of beauty. Happy holidays! —Oprah
